RXM

- Removable serialized stainless steel Fire Control Insert (FCI) set inside an interchangeable Magpul® Enhanced Handgun Grip (EHG™)
- Magpul EHG features Magpul's 3/4-scale TSP texture for a secure grip without discomfort or damage to clothing during concealed carry and textured indexing pads for consistent finger/thumb placement
- Other EHG features include: a low-profile, flared magazine well for quick and easy magazine insertion; a trigger guard undercut and beaver tail that promote a high grip for better control; a magazine release scallop for easy access; and a universal-pattern accessory rail for use with a variety of lights and lasers
- Slide allows for direct optic mounting of RMR, DPP and RMSc pattern optics. Co-witness-height steel sights feature a tritium night front sight, providing an excellent sight picture, with or without an optic installed
- Striker-fired with a flat-faced trigger, smooth trigger pull and tactile reset
- Safety features include an integrated trigger safety, internal striker blocker and inspection port that allows for visual confirmation of a loaded or empty chamber
